

Bim Bam Boom by Frédéric Stehr

A joyful board book that celebrates the inadvertent naughtiness of toddler behaviour.

I love the pure joy in the faces of these bird babies as they unintentionally drive Big Owl up the wall with their music

Julia Marshall, Publisher

A pot and two wooden spoons—BIM BAM—little owl makes music!

Canary, sparrow, chick and raven join her. What fun to create sound and rhythm with pots and pans. Two saucepan lids—TISH TISH—a bowl and a ladle—BOOM BOOM.

But then... "What ARE you doing?" asks Big Owl. This kind of music isn't for everybody...

A happy book that captures the pleasure of making music with pots and pans.

"...little text but a lot of noise and a wise owl who reckons she can master this little band of joyful fellows. Here is the recipe for a successful book! A favourite!" Album d'Eveil (France)

Frédéric Stehr was born sixth in a family of seven children. He studied fine arts in Paris, where he spent hours painting in the public gardens, and he worked as a carpenter and painter. Then he discovered picture books, publishing his first book in 1983, and he now has more than 60 books to his name.
