

Selma by Jutta Bauer

A witty, thought-provoking gift book about keeping life simple

Selma is a small book about a big question! A mini hardback for all ages that celebrates a good life.

Julia Marshall, Publisher

Selma is asked: What is happiness?

She says: Happiness is eating a little grass at sunrise, playing with the children until lunchtime, doing a little exercise after lunch, a little more grass, a chat with her neighbour Mrs Miller in the evening and then a lovely long sleep.

If she had more time? She would eat a little grass in the morning, play with the children until lunchtime, do a little exercise after lunch, eat a little more grass, chat with her neighbour Mrs Miller in the evening and finally, fall fast asleep.

And if she won a million dollars? She would eat a little grass...

A lovely parable of contentment, which will ring a delighted echo from the hearts of mothers of all

Curiously Good Event

Are you ready to come on board?!

We are excited to take part in Wellington On a Plate... Join us in Featherston for a lunch with author and illustrator Gavin Bishop and his Cook(s) to celebrate the 250th anniversary of the Endeavour's journey!

Gavin Bishop will speak about food and life aboard the Endeavour - from Pease Pudding to Goose Pie and Shark Steaks - and how a resourceful cook fed a shipful of hungry sailors on their extraordinary adventure.

His talk comes with a three-course meal inspired by the one-handed cook who fed everyone aboard HMS Endeavour... More details here.
