

GECKO
PRESS

The Observologist

Giselle Clarkson

Take the final exam from The Observologist –
A handbook for mounting very small scientific expeditions and then fill out the certificate to show all you have learned.

AN OBSERVOLOGIST'S FINAL EXAM

① What are you?

- A. Enormous
- B. Curious
- C. A nice creature
- D. Thoughtful

② What are you looking for?

- A. Small things
- B. Very small things
- C. Extremely small things
- D. Almost absurdly small things

③ Why?

- A. Because I want to
- B. Because they're cool
- C. Because the more you learn the more interesting everything is
- D. No reason, it's just an inherently neat activity

④ Where will you find things to observe?

- A. Under your nose
- B. Everywhere
- C. Over there
- D. I'm pointing to something now

⑤ What is the world?

- A. Magnificent
- B. Spectacular
- C. Weird
- D. Remarkable in every way

WELL DONE!

This is to certify that has completed the required course of study to be awarded the qualification of

OBSERVOLOGIST

IN THE YEAR and is hereby granted the authority to perform observology here, there and everywhere.

J. J. Charles

Department of Observology

